

Kenya Airways Experiences 2.7 Month Payback Period after Implementing Syntergy's Replicator

Estimates Over $20,000 Per Month Cost Savings Related to Storage, Productivity and a Move Away from Paper-based Systems

La Jolla, CA — February 28, 2008 — Syntergy Inc., a leading provider of products that extend Microsoft SharePoint Products and Technologies, today announced that Kenya Airways, the pride of Africa, selected Syntergy's Replicator to enhance its implementation of Microsoft Office SharePoint Server 2007. Implemented in October 2007, Kenya Airways experienced a “time to payback” of only 2.7 months on its installation of Replicator.

“The implementation of Replicator was virtually hassle-free thanks to the training and support offered by Syntergy,” said Mathu Nganga, Collaboration Services Team Leader, Kenya Airways Ltd. “Replicator will be instrumental in helping us improve collaboration and communication to our staff of 4000 throughout Africa, Asia and Europe.”

Since implementing Replicator, Kenya Airways has realized significant benefits, including:

- Increased scalability of SharePoint within the organization
- Greater adoption rate resulting from more accurate, more timely information
- Enhanced return on its SharePoint investment

“Low bandwidth is certainly not a challenge unique to Kenya Airways, but it can be a significant barrier in terms of both time and costs when it comes to information sharing,” said David Seaman, chief operating officer at Syntergy. “By using Syntergy’s Replicator for bi-directional synchronizing of information between two Microsoft Office SharePoint Servers 2007, Kenya Airways has already begun to reduce costs.”
